Haber Is Arrested After 5-Mile Chase By State Troopers

Grand Street Man Charged With Recklessness, Assault by Car, Speeding

John Haber, 21, of 106 Grand street was slated for arraignment today before Peace Justice John O. Beaver at Esopus on three charges, which the state police reported were lodged against him following a five-mile chase and a three-car accident in Port Ewen Sunday night.

State Troopers T. P. Herron and Edward Donovan, who said that Haber was traveling at a speed "better than 70," when the chase began near the Mt. St. Alphonsus monastery, said that Haber is charged with reckless driving, assault by motor vehicle and speeding.

The chase ended, the officers reported, when the car which Haber was driving, sideswiped a sedan operated by Joseph Tanti of 4 Falkill Place, Poughkeepsie, and another auto involved, operated by George Walker, Jr., of Port Ewen, was forced through a guard rail and overturned.

The Haber auto, the report said, also crushed into a guard rail at about 8:30 p. m., a half mile south of the Rondout creek bridge near the Tropical Inn.

Two Others Held
Donald John Matthews, 25, of 33 Ponckhockie street and William Floyd Bilyou, 23, of 105 Abruy street, the police said, who were occupants of the car driven by Haber, will be arraigned along with Haber at 2 p. m. today before Peace Justice Beaver on public intoxication charges.

Injured in the accident, according to the police, and Mr. Walker, were Walker's son, George, 11, his wife, Eva Mae, daughter Darlene, 4½ years old, and himself. Haber also suffered a fracture of the nose, the police said. He was discharged following treatment at the Kingston Hospital.

To Take X-Rays

Young Walker was admitted to the Kingston Hospital, where his condition was described today as "fairly good." It was reported that he had suffered a concussion, but X-rays were to be taken this afternoon to determine the full extent of his injuries.

Mrs. Walker, according to her husband, suffered neck and leg injuries, and his daughter a back injury, bruised cheek and a lip injury. He reported his own back and stomach injury. All except the son were discharged following treatment at the hospital. They were conveyed there in the state police auto.

Mr. Walker said today that he and his family were returning home from church when the accident happened.

State Trooper Daniel Dakin, of the Highland station, also assisted in the investigation.

Committee to Ask Opinions of Plan Marshall's 4-Year Program Would Be Subjected to Survey

Washington, Dec. 22 (AP)—The Senate Foreign Relations Committee is planning to ask prominent Americans from all walks of life for their opinions of the four-year, $17,000,000,000 Marshall plan for European recovery.

Democratic Leader Barkley (Ky.), a committee member, told reporters today. He said Secretary of State Marshall probably will be the first witness when the committee begins hearings January 7. But before hearings are concluded, he said, scores of others will be heard.

Chairman Vandenberg (R-Mich.) said no list of prospective witnesses has been compiled, but that he wants to obtain "a cross section" of American views before the committee acts.

Already signs are cropping up that Congress will take lots of time and write its own European recovery plan, rather than accept the one President Truman submitted. And indications are that it will be nowhere near as big as $17,000,000,000.

Vandenberg told reporters he will have no statement of his views on the President's proposal until after he hears the evidence laid before his committee. He already has said that he favors the principle of such an aid program, but has declined to discuss details other than to observe that he thinks it ought to be administered by an independent agency linked only to the policy level with the State Department. The chairman insisted at a meeting of the Foreign Relations Committee last week that all hearings be held in public.

Members of the Harman Committee which drafted a report assuring Europe's needs in relation to American resources, are expected to be called. Witnesses probably will include Bernard M. Baruch, adviser to presidents, James F. Byrnes, former secretary of state; William L. Clayton, former under secretary of state, and possibly former President Herbert Hoover.

Approximately 40 Extra Persons Are Busy, Postmaster Reports

Approximately 40 extra persons are being employed by the Kingston Post Office to handle the record amount of mail during this year's Christmas rush period, Postmaster William R. Kraft announced today. All the extra employees are war veterans, Kraft said.

Between 125,000 and 150,000 pieces of mail passed through the cancelling machines in Kingston's Central Post Office daily since last week, and with a greater amount of incoming mail, the load is about 35 per cent more than last year, the postmaster said. Last year's amount of Christmas mail had established a record for mail handled in this city, Kraft said, and this year the total is already well above that.

The local post office has kept up with the mail, however, and all letters are sent out with the least possible delay. The men, both regular and extra employees, are working overtime as much as needed, and nothing is being allowed to pile up, Kraft stressed. "In other words, we're right on the button," he said.

Western Union Strike Averted By Fact-Finding Maneuver

Washington, Dec. 22 (AP)—A pre-Christmas strike of Western Union workers was averted today by shifting major differences between the company and three A. F. L. unions to a fact-finding board for decision in 50 days.

The action delays the threat of a nationwide telegraph tieup at least until after February 9—about the time telephone workers plan to begin wage talks with the Bell Telephone Companies across the country.

The two groups of communications workers were poised to strike simultaneously last spring, but the telegraph workers settled for a five-cent hourly pay increase on the eve of the scheduled tie-up. The telephone strike lasted five weeks.

The renewed Western Union dispute arose over union demands for a 15 cent an hour wage boost. The walkout first was set to begin at 6 a. m. Eastern Standard Time, tomorrow, but the unions later threatened to call the telegraphers out on shorter notice.

However, day-long conferences with Federal Conciliation Director Cyrus C. Ching finally resulted in an agreement late last night to cancel the strike call. A three-man fact-finding panel to be chosen by Ching will decide two main issues which the con-

Council Acts to Insure Firemen, Police Cash

Each Paid Fireman To Get $85 as Cost of Living Bonus

The Common Council completed its business for the year 1947 at a short meeting Saturday night during which the members made possible a cost of living bonus of $85 for each paid fireman in the city by authorizing the transfer of money to the payroll account of the fire department.

The council also appropriated $990.94 for the payment of claims from members of the police department for money they should have received under the new salary schedule for the period from December 1 to 15.

The action on the bonus for firemen was taken by the council on recommendation of the Board of Fire Commissioners, who asked that an amount of $3,650 be transferred from other fire department accounts to the payroll account, number 132-A, in order to make up a $100 deficit in that account and provide $5,550 for bonus purposes. This request was made at the previous meeting on December 6, and was referred to the finance, ways and means committee. This committee reported favorably on the request Saturday night, and the committee's report was adopted unanimously by the aldermen.

Salary Difference
Issuance of budget notes in the amount of $990.94 was authorized by the council to make up the difference in salary received by the police department members for the period from December 1 to 15 and the salary due them under the provisions of the local law adopted last month in a referendum. This resolution also passed without opposition.

The meeting, which was the regular December meeting recessed on December 2 and again on December 6, lasted only 20 minutes. Before adjournment, Council President John J. Schwenk, who did not seek reelection this year, said he wished to "express my appreciation for the cooperation of this body during my term of office, and to wish all its members a merry Christmas and a happy New Year."

Alderman Victor H. Roth of the Twelfth Ward, who also was not a candidate for reelection, told the members that he wanted to duplicate the remarks made by President Schwenk, and added, "It has been a privilege and distinctly an honor to serve on this board."

Other Council members from the Ninth ward, added his wishes for a Merry Christmas and Happy New Year, and said that, "although I haven't seen eye to eye with other members of the board in all matters, I am leaving with no feeling otherwise than friendship." Clifton also will terminate his term with the Council on December 31.

Patricia Schmidt Gets 15-Year Term For Slaying of Mee

Dancer Also Must Pay $5,000 Indemnity; Tells Father She Is Resigned

Havana, Dec. 22 (AP)—Patricia (Satira) Schmidt was sentenced today to 15 years in prison and payment of a $5,000 indemnity for the yacht slaying of her lover, John Lester Mee of Chicago.

The three judges of the Audiencia Court reached their decision in a week-end of study, after closing of the trial Friday.

A public prosecutor had demanded a 25-year term for manslaughter and a private prosecutor hired by Mee's father, Dr. Lester L. Mee of Wilmette, Ill., had sought a 30-year sentence for murder.

The defense had contended that Mee in terror and by accident last April, and that rough handling, rather than the bullet wound itself, caused the fatality. Miss Schmidt is 22.

She first went before the court in the trial September 17. The public prosecutor, J. M. Fuentes Carretero, reduced his charge of murder to manslaughter, December 16.

The judges, headed by Cristobal More, drew up their conviction decision and gave it to a court clerk Saturday.

Patricia will get credit for the time served awaiting her sentence. After the first year, her sentence can be reduced two months each year for good behavior. The court can release her after three-fourths of her term has been served.

The three judges voted unanimously on all counts. The dancer had told her friends she expected a 15-year sentence. Rone Castellanos, Patricia's lawyer, said he did not know prior to talking with the dancer whether she would appeal the case.

"This sentence proves once more that justice in Cuba is seriously and honestly administered," the lawyer said. "We have, done everything possible within procedural limits to obtain an acquittal for Patricia or have the sentence held to a minimum. The court has considered everything it could in favor or against her. Regardless of this opinion, we believe the court has been very severe with her."

The dancer, known professionally as Satira, was reported to have sent word to her father in Toledo she was prepared to accept a prison term.

Carnera Can Stay in U. S.

Washington, Dec. 22 (AP)—The State Department said today Primo Carnera, former heavyweight boxing champion who is now a wrestler, has been given permission to live in the United States permanently. The Italian athlete also has applied for permission to bring his wife and two children, Umberto and Giovanna Maria, to the United States from Genoa. Carnera's wife and children undoubtedly will be permitted to enter the United States, he said, since the department is inclined to act favorably on Carnera's application for them.

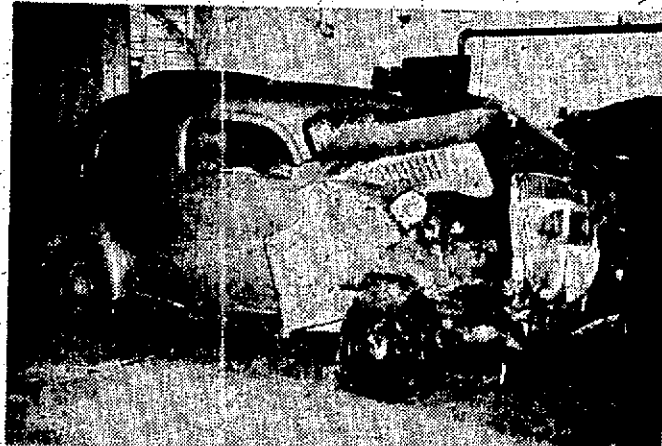

German Coal Operator Is Given Seven-Year Term

Nuernberg, Dec. 22 (AP)—Friedrich Flick, 64-year-old head of Germany's largest privately-owned coal, iron and steel empire, was sentenced to seven years imprisonment today for exploiting slave labor and looting German-occupied countries.

The two and one-half years which Flick already has spent in confinement will be deducted from his sentence.

Otto Steinbrink, Flick's principal associate, was sentenced to five years in prison and Flick's nephew, Bernhard Weiss, was sentenced to serve two and one-half years. Three other Flick associates who were defendants in the six-month trial were acquitted on all counts. Steinbrink was found guilty of membership in the S.S. and of sup-

Labor Party Begins Anti-Red Drive

Commies Say Anglo Plan Is Linked to U. S. Drive to Split Unions

London, Dec. 22 (AP)—Britain's ruling Labor Party launched today a campaign against Communist "infiltration and intrigue" within the organization, and the Communists immediately branded the drive a U. S.-inspired plot to sink this country with France and Italy in an attempt to split the trade unions.

Warning that the Communists were out to "sabotage" the government, Labor Party Secretary Morgan Phillips dispatched a letter to all labor groups—including the trade unions—in which he urged that they take the offensive against Communist influence within the party.

The Communist Daily Worker once retaliated by declaring: "This attack follows months of preparatory work by the U. S. State Department, acting partly through its embassies and partly through paid agents of the American Federation of Labor."

Their aim is to split the unions of France, Italy and Britain. Phillips' letter obediently parallels the tactics used by the reactionaries in France.

This obviously was a reference to developments last Friday in Paris, where the anti-Communist minority wing of the Communist General Confederation of Labor (C.G.T.) voted to secede and form its own national trade group.

In his letter Phillips said the British Communist Party had joined the Cominform's "cold war" against the western brand of socialism and against the Marshall aid plan for European recovery. "We can expect Communist-inspired attempts to foment discontent in factories and workshops, which may result in slowing down and hampering the production drive," he said.

According to best estimates, based on recent election returns, there are only about 50,000 Communists in Britain, but they hold a number of key trade union posts—especially among groups so vital to Britain's recovery program as in progress.

Both prosecution and defense attorneys expected the verdict against Flick to bear considerable weight in connection with the trials of officials of the I. G. Farben Chemical Trust and the Krupp Armament Works which are now in progress.

The court—consisting of Charles B. Sears of the Court of Appeals of New York as president judge and judges Frank N. Richman of Indiana and William C. Christianson of Minnesota—dismissed the charge that Flick and two of his associates acquired Jewish property through Nazi confiscations.

Under the charge of slave labor, the court found both Flick and

Car Making Left Turn and One Headed North Collide Early Sunday

Six persons were injured in a two-car accident a mile south of the Highland traffic circle, Route 9W, at 3:15 a. m. Sunday, according to the state police.

One of the autos, operated by Julian Giuffra, 21, of Scarsdale, the report said, was headed north on the highway when it was in head-on collision with a car driven by William E. Moffatt, 27, of 280 Church street, Poughkeepsie.

The second car, the troopers said, was attempting to make a left turn into the Music Box tavern at the time.

All of the injured were taken to Vassar Hospital, Poughkeepsie, by ambulance and private autos. Their injuries as reported by police were:

Giuffra, an injury to the tongue; Eileen Maroney, 18, Elmsford, N. Y., multiple abrasions of the face and legs, and Ignatius Tornatore, 26, of 211 Mill street, Poughkeepsie, laceration of the chin. The latter two were occupants of the Giuffra car.

Injured in the Moffatt car were: Moffatt, who suffered a scalp laceration; Robert Lane, 21, of 35 North Ferry street, Poughkeepsie, multiple lacerations of the face; Agnes Leiffer, 22, of 147 Main street, Poughkeepsie, dislocated right hip and multiple abrasions and contusions.

The accident was investigated by State Troopers Daniel Dakin and Edward Donovan, who reported that both autos were demolished and were towed from the scene to a garage.

Ferry to Dec. 31, Weather Permitting

The New York State Bridge Authority today reiterated its earlier announcement that the Kingston-Rhinecliff ferry will continue in service through December 31 if weather permits.

Information on the ferry service meanwhile may be gained through telephone calls to the Chamber of Commerce, Donald Williams, secretary said today. The chamber, he said, will attempt to keep abreast of conditions which might affect the service and supply such information as will be available. The ferry will go into dry dock for repairs immediately after it ceases operation, the bridge authority said.

More Donations Needed

More donations for Christmas baskets are needed by the Volunteers of America in order to supply 30 baskets of food to needy families this year. Contributions may be dropped in the "chimney" placed in front of Grant's store Wall street. Mrs. Charles Brant reported this morning that needy family lists are thoroughly checked with other organizations to eliminate duplication of baskets to families.

Man Hurt in Fall

Patrolman Kenneth Stratton reported to police headquarters that at 3 p. m., Saturday Andrew G. Murphy of 29 Franklin street had tripped on the curb on Wall street near the corner of North Front street, and fell to the sidewalk, sustaining a skinned nose. He was treated in the United Pharmacy, the patrolman said.

296 Took Part in Big Speculation

Secretary of Agriculture Says Other Lists Will Be Released to Public

Is Only First Step

Senator Ferguson Says His Group Will Make Full Blast Probe

Washington, Dec. 22 (AP)—Secretary of Agriculture Anderson today made public a list of 771 so-called big traders in the commodity futures markets.

The names included that of Edwin Pauley, special assistant to the secretary of the Army, but no other government employees were on this list which Anderson said is a "partial" one.

Pauley testified before a Senate committee that he had large holdings in commodities when he took the job under Secretary of the Army Royall, but has been getting rid of them.

Anderson's list was composed of traders who are required to report their holdings to the Commodity Exchange Administration, agency which has limited supervisory powers over the markets. The list was made up of traders who held commodities on the futures market on Oct. 31, 1947 and Oct. 31, 1946.

Anderson said the list included 296 persons who engaged in speculative operations. The others engaged in hedging, a non-speculative type of operation, and in "spreading," a semi-speculative type of operation.

None of the trading is unlawful, but President Truman has asserted that speculation has tended to run up the price of commodities. Some exchange men dispute that.

The partial list was made public after the provision of a joint resolution Congress adopted last week authorizing the secretary to disclose names of traders.

To Have Other Lists
Additional lists will be made public from time to time, Anderson said, until the names of all the traders on the commodity exchange administration's list have been published.

Congress voted that names of big traders should be published after the Senate Appropriations Committee began an investigation of reports that government "insiders" have profited from market operations.

Senator Ferguson (R-Mich.) said publication of traders' names will be only the first step in Congressional efforts to learn whether there is any connection between government food buying and private speculation.

Ferguson told a reporter before he left Washington on a Christmas vacation that the Senate Appropriations subcommittee which he heads will be ready to go into the speculation question full blast when Congress reconvenes January 6.

"What we want to find out," the Michigan senator said, "is whether any persons who were in a position to know what the government was going to buy and when it was going to buy used that information to their advantage."

"The publication of the names of the speculators is only the first step and means little by itself. If there are any 'leaks' from the government departments, we want to know about them."

Ferguson said he thinks that Edwin W. Pauley, special assistant to Secretary of the Army Royall, will produce the books covering his market trading early in January. He wrote Pauley yesterday asking that the records

Laborer Is Found Dead in Shack Near Schoentag's

Ferdinand Herget, 70, a retired laborer, was found dead early Saturday morning in a small shack in which he lived near Milady's Tavern on Route 9W, a short distance south of Schoentag's Hotel.

Coroner Ernest A. Kelly issued a verdict of death due to a heart condition, after he was called into the case by state troopers from the Lake Katrine barracks.

The body was found by Albert Prisdler, who operates Milady's Tavern, when he noticed that Herget was not up and around at his usual hour and investigated. He notified the state troopers and Coroner Kelly was called in.

A native of Austria, Mr. Herget had lived in the Saugerties area for about 35 years, the last 15 years of which were spent in the area around Schoentag's. He was a laborer and did odd jobs for residents in that section. For the past few years he had lived a retired life. He leaves no survivors.

Mother, 25, Kills Self as 'Failure'

St. Louis, Dec. 22 (AP)—A 25-year-old mother of two children wrote a note to her husband which ended, "Incidentally, I love you" then fatally shot herself last night while her husband was on a date with another woman. Police Sergeant Joseph Conesidine said today.

Sgt. Conesidine said Robert Andrew Slickman, 23, a G.I. medical student, told him he returned home early this morning, found the note on the living room table and discovered the body of his wife, Marilyn, in a bedroom.

"I did so much to help you as your wife but I have failed so miserably if a pretty face and figure and a hard luck story can destroy all I've tried to build," police quoted from the note.

The police sergeant said Slickman told of going to a movie with a young woman he had known about three weeks. Slickman planned to break off the acquaintance last night, the sergeant quoted him as saying.

The Slickmans' two children were asleep in another bedroom at the time of the shooting which police said occurred about 11 p. m. (C.S.T.). Slickman said they were expecting a third child.

Fuller was taken to the Kingston Hospital suffering from a broken arm, broken toe and head injuries. State Police from Lake Katrine investigated the accident.

Water Leak Reported
Firemen received a call Sunday afternoon that water was leaking from the house at 68 Murray street. A water pipe had broken, and water was coming into the street from the house which was locked. Fire department officials said the police department was notified, and they contacted the owner, J. W. Buck of 11 Home street, and the tenant, Grover Tyler.

CHRISTMAS FACES

I like to watch expressions
In the hush of Christmas-time
They're wistful and seem to say
"For once, the world's in rhyme."

The youngsters press their noses
Against the window-panes
Where wondrous toys for girls and boys
Ride by on magic trains.

The grown-ups stand behind them
And share each glad surprise
As smiles embrace each Christmas face
In holiday disguise.

The old are reminiscing
And as they view the throng
I well believe their hearts achieve
A bit of Heaven's song.

I'm watching Christmas faces
For there the soul appears
As care melts to mist the King
Who smiles through endless years.

Santa Is Going to Europe But Will Skip Many Homes

By ALVIN J. STEINKOPF
London, Dec. 22 (AP)—Santa Claus will skip a lot of people in Europe this Christmas, but for the inhabitants of a few lucky lands it will be fairly merry.

A fraction of the continent's millions will have roast goose and a cheerful bit of holly to brighten the day. But for other millions Christmas will be another day of worry over rations and coal for the kitchen stove.

A "Santa Claus" survey of the Christmas prospects of 20 countries indicated that, in a material way, it will be somewhat better Christmas than last year. Except in a corner of Greece and a few drought-stricken regions of eastern Europe there is a little more food for the holiday than there was a year ago.

There are some toys for the children and times have been quiet enough to enable men to revive some of the colorful observances of the traditional Christmas season. There were indications everywhere the midnight Masses will be attended by great throngs. One complaint was universal—prices are high and going higher. A doll which doesn't look like much costs $10 in Italy. Forty dollars is not unusual for a small boy's tricycle in France. A $23 turkey in Switzerland is not an expensive bird—a Christmas tree in Portugal costs up to $12.

Budgets Too Small
Nowhere has income kept pace with the rising spiral of prices. The traditional carp was a luxury in Czechoslovakia and rice porridge, which belongs to Christmas Eve in Denmark, was outside the range of many a family's budget.

For most Italians Christmas will be better than at any time since the war—but the well-stocked restaurants and shops in Italian cities give a misleading impression. Prices of even articles which would make modest gifts are beyond the reach of average Italians.

But the Italian in average circumstances has not been overlooked entirely. Since the end of U.N.R.R.A. supplies the new United States relief mission to Italy has sent 122 shiploads of food; coal and other products, and many thousands of gift packages have been pouring into the impoverished country. Exchanging of gifts will take place January 6, when Befana, the good witch, will bring toys to well-behaved children.

Better in Germany
Germany, too, will have a slightly better Christmas. There even a few Christmas trees—rationed with priority being given to families with children. There is little to eat, and many houses will be cold, but the old Weihnachts Mart (Christmas Fair) is being revived in many of the battered cities.

In Russian, British and American occupation zones there will be small, extra distributions of flour and sugar.

Austrians, said a message from Vienna, will be "thinking" about calories, and if all goes well there will be the usual 1,700 a day for the average consumer. There still is no margin to permit the traditional soup and whitefish. Austria will have Christmas trees and there are a few toys for children.

In France high prices dampen the Christmas spirit. Gosce, well-regarded as a Christmas dish, costs about $1.50 a pound, so most Frenchmen will have something else.

Scandinavian lands, covered this winter by a thick blanket of snow, will be about as merry as anyone in Europe.

There will be no pinching shortage of the essential goose in Norway, Denmark or Sweden, but all miss rice and the usual complaints over high prices are heard.

Poland looked forward to some good eating on Christmas Eve. Vegetable and fruit crops were good and livestock is sufficient for the population.

Czechs Hard Hit
Nature was less bountiful a short distance to the south. Czechoslovakia, after the most severe drought in many years, has been obliged to cut its food ration sharply. Carp and potato salad, and the Christmas cake of raisins and almonds will not be seen in many homes.

Romania will have a prosperous Christmas season but rains last summer passed by Bulgaria and consequently, this will be the country's leanest Christmas season since the war.

A report from Greece said the Christmas season "will be extremely grim for more than 400,000 refugees from areas of guerrilla operation." Greece always observes Christmas as a religious holiday, and will do so this year.

Merry in Switzerland
In middle Europe prosperous Switzerland is set to observe a merry Christmas. Butter, bread, milk and sugar are still rationed, but the country has large quantities of meat, fruit, poultry, eggs and other products which a hard currency can buy.

Reports from Spain said the Christmas eve dinner will be less abundant than a year ago, and again the reason is high prices. Dispatches from Portugal indicate everyone will eat well, and that it will be a "plastic Christmas" plastic articles, largely from abroad, fill the shops.

Belgium and Holland will emphasize the religious aspects of the day. Belgium, especially, will eat well.

Austere Britain hoped for a Christmas a little more bountiful than that of last year, but the supply situation is spotty. Good supplies of fowl, especially turkeys, are arriving from many lands. There will be some extra turkey, oranges and bananas, and a little more coal for the fire place. On the darker side, potatoes are becoming very scarce.

Christmas will be a friendly day in Ireland, according to dispatches from Ireland, but one depressing note will be the absence of familiar faces due to heavy emigration recently.

Belgian Airliner Crashes

Nanking, Dec. 22 (AP)—A chartered four-engine Belgian airliner carrying 30 Catholic missionaries was reported today to have crashed four miles from the Kungming Airfield, seriously injuring ten occupants. The report on the casualties came from the French consul at Kungming shortly after a spokesman for China's Civil Aeronautics Authority announced the crash. A Catholic official here said the plane was a British-made Short Stirling.

Christmas Gets Lights

Christmas, Fla., Dec. 22 (AP)—Christmas lights will burn in Christmas for the first time this year. This community in Orange county with a population of approximately 300 now has electric lights. It has been made famous throughout the nation by its postmark that has gone on hundreds of thousands of holiday greeting cards.

It is estimated that 50,000 American homes are broken every year by desertion.

CHRISTMAS CANDLES

The use of candles at Christmas time is said to come down to modern times from the days of the Roman Emperor Constantine for whom Byzantium was renamed Constantinople when he transferred the capital of the empire there. Constantine converted to Christianity after seeing a luminous cross in the sky, introduced the ritual of the lighted candle into Christian services of worship, and ordered special illumination on Christmas Eve.

Today there are all kinds and shapes of Christmas candles: Santa Claus waxen images, angels, snow men, bells and snow balls, not to mention the more orthodox tapers in white and red. These may seem a far cry from the days of Constantine, who lived in the fourth century A.D. Nevertheless when we light a candle at Christmas time—and who doesn't?—we are following a pattern that this Roman emperor started.

Lights on the tree also come from an old Norse practice of hanging bright baubles on an evergreen tree at the period of greatest darkness, to show the gods that men wanted the world to look bright again with the trees green and the fruits and blossoms gay.

The likeness in customs of different peoples is a strange thing. Perhaps it will help in the end to further the thinking of people that humanity and the world are one.

AMERICAN POTTERY

The making of dishes for America's tables became strictly a native industry during the war, and pottery manufacturers here are now planning to keep it that way, ending our former dependence on the kilns of England, Germany, Czechoslovakia, and Japan.

To this end, they are busy with research and development which will take it simpler and cheaper to manufacture beautiful china and porcelain. The pottery business has been run by traditional handicraft methods since its beginnings. By this system, labor is the biggest cost item. Other industries apportion 20 per cent of cost for labor, while in the manufacture of china, 60 per cent is required. Mechanization is the answer, and research engineers are busy applying its principles to a business which was formerly an art.

There is a big field for the machine-made product in supplying large users such as hotels, but there will always be discriminating buyers who appreciate the delicate individuality of a bowl or a cup which has been turned on a wheel, shaped by sensitive fingers, and ornamented by hand.

THE GLAMOROUS PACIFIC

Not many years ago the Pacific islands were thought of as glamorous places where the European, or American visitor could spend all his time lying under a palm tree, eating bread fruit and being fanned by a dusky bride. The war completely disproved most of these notions. GI's found the Solomons the opposite of glamorous, and few could mention any Pacific island that they wanted ever to see again.

The war did prove one thing, that the islands have strategic and economic value. It is doubtless for this reason that Harvard University announces the establishment of a chair of oceanic studies, which will treat the islands in all their aspects except possibly the many languages spoken there. Universities have hitherto treated them, if at all, as a small subdivision of a general course on European colonial government.

The GI's may not like the South Pacific, but it is worth their country's while to know more about it.

GERMAN TROUBLE

The Germans in these latter years seem to be getting into one difficulty after another, and disposed to let the world know about it and to try to extract sympathy for their troubles if they can. Their present lamentation is over the lack of men. There are not enough to go around, for labor or new families.

The world in general is not likely to worry unduly about this calamity, taking the rather natural view that it is Germans who have got themselves into that situation. The Germans

THIRD PARTY STRATEGY

The Third Party factions consist of Irreconcilable New Dealers, Wallacites, Communists, F.A.C., the Lewis group in labor, and those who still believe that a way to peace and friendship can and ought to be found with Soviet Russia. The leader of this amalgam is Henry Wallace. In the Senate, it will be supported by Senators Kilgore and Taylor. They hope that eventually Claude Pepper and Elbert Thomas of Utah might join them. In the House of Representatives they have Vito Marcantonio.

The maximum strength that the Third Party hopes to produce for 1948 is 5,000,000 votes. That will be more than enough to defeat Harry Truman for the Presidency. The objective is to defeat Truman. Then the Democratic party would be split and broken as the Republican party was in 1932. Wallace and his group, being tightly organized would then step in and take control of the machinery of the Democratic party with possible accretions of power in the 1950 Congressional elections and with real possibilities in 1952.

The Third Party Groups are opposed to Truman because they are convinced that he is essentially a conservative American who will not succumb to the blandishments of Soviet Russia. They won over Hannegan by arithmetic; then Hannegan lost his influence over Truman, they managed to get Sullivan by scaring him with the bogey of Henry Wallace and they even pushed Truman into false moves, but in the end Attorney-General Clark published a partial and doctored list of subversive organizations containing some very dead ones. Nevertheless, a list was formally published. Although they managed to impede the full enforcement of the loyalty edit, nevertheless stands as an order to be enforced effectively when Truman might appease Wallace but he will not accept his palsies. So, they are out for Truman's scalp.

The Third Party does not object to a Republican victory in 1948 because they are convinced that the Depression which they anticipated for 1946 and which has not yet arrived must sooner or later come. They believe that it is inevitable before 1952.

If the Republicans are in power when the Depression comes, it will serve them well. Then they will be able to say that the Republicans are responsible for the Depression. They know that the public always blames the party on the spot.

By killing off Truman, breaking up the Democratic Party and scattering the Republican Party with an "inevitable" depression they slaughter three birds with one stone, which is a wonder to behold. Then they will be in power—forever.

To the Communists, Henry Wallace is the Keresensky of the American Revolution. He can serve as a vehicle to restore them to places of authority and may even bring them to power. Wallace is now so enamored of his mind has been so conditioned that it is doubtful whether he has any will of his own left. Certainly, he has cut all his bridges and is now their slave. Wallace, as President, would do their bidding not as completely as Tito, Pauker, Togliatti or Thorez but sufficiently to satisfy them at this stage. Once in power, they could force him to do anything they could wish. They could have Mikolajczyk of Poland, Nagy and Plofieri of Hungary.

This is the pattern that is now being developed and it may alter the entire campaign. The Republicans want Senator Taft as President because they are convinced that he is the most competent man in their party. An element exists among Republicans that fears, first that Taft cannot be elected and secondly, that because he is forthright and strictly honest, he would say something during the campaign that would defeat him and also many Republican Congressional candidates.

Should Wallace run as a Third Party candidate, the Republican election will be assured. Therefore, these particular assumptions concerning Taft's candidacy would go by the board. Under such circumstances, he is likely to be nominated. At any rate, that is the reaction of the moment. A Third Party ticket would kill off all Republican candidates except those of Taft and Dewey with Taft the favorite. The next month may tell the story. That Body of Yours

By James W. Barton, M. D.

INFECTED TONSILS

A powerfully built man, 60 years of age, found that he was getting out of breath if he walked at the pace he had always walked, so consulted a heart specialist. The specialist told him that infected tonsils were causing the heart condition and advised removal of tonsils and more physical rest.

The man took more rest but refused to have his tonsils removed because, when his son had had his tonsils removed a few years previously, bleeding occurred for a number of hours. He decided to take a chance and not have his tonsils removed. He died of heart disease within a few months.

When we think of the thousands of children and adults every year who have tonsils removed and of the very small percentage who die from hemorrhage, we naturally wonder why anyone should take the chance of allowing infected tonsils to remain.

Because it is known that infected tonsils cause repeated sore throats, and sore throats are the commonest cause of heart disease, physicians advise removal of children with infected tonsils to have tonsils removed.

There has been much criticism of physicians for advising removal of tonsils in so many cases in children. But Dr. F. A. Macneil, Winnipeg, Canada, states that those who suggest that the removal of tonsils in children is of doubtful value are lying in the face of common clinical experience. He admits, however, that sometimes the tonsils are condemned when they are not to blame for the symptoms present, and in some cases the tonsils are removed by one who is not expert, leaving a throat that is always a source of irritation.

What can be done where the tonsils are so badly infected that they endanger life, yet the patient has a fear of hemorrhage from the operation?

The tonsils should be removed in any case, by surgery or electrocoagulation, operation being considered best in most cases. A competent throat surgeon can clamp small blood vessels or tie off temporarily the large blood vessels supplying the tonsils. We must remember that tonsils should not be removed unless infected or are obstructing breathing. They serve as filters till the age of puberty, and actually prevent colds and chest infections.

were a great people in their time, but those who try to gain power and property through war must take the consequences of war.

If only those who made war by aggression were to suffer such consequences the world could be comparatively calm about letting them learn the hard way. But when war is made, everybody suffers. Men of France, England, America and other countries have been killed, too.

Dollars to Doughnuts He Gets Through All Right

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

Washington, Dec. 21.—The distance from the far corners of both the old and new House office buildings to the House of Representatives in the Capitol is about a half mile. There is no transportation except by taxi, which is the nearest offices are more than a quarter of a mile away. The congressmen and their office help almost always walk. Their errands are frequent. A member may have to walk three round trips a day, either overland, through the park, or by tunnel.

The Senate office building also is connected with the Capitol by tunnel. For some obscure reason while the senators have a set of electric trolleys like old-time Broadway summer dikeys, there are no vehicles in the subway to the congressmen's offices. It would cost little and it would save time and energy, but still there is no trolley-line. Even such scooters would be fine but, nevertheless, the congressmen and their help walk. Most of the members are distinctly young and more active than most senators, but I have thought, while wearily plodding the monotonous route, that it would be in the public interest that they take their exercise on their own time and use their energy on their work. It is a punishing trip through long corridors on marble and concrete floors and, by the end of a busy day, a statesman or journalist or clerk is painfully weary. It hurts.

More and more lately I have been conscious of the representative character of the representatives. The young men in their thirties have the look of ambitious, fairly successful, active young Americans as they are seen in all our cities and towns. Of the elders, John Rankin, of Mississippi, ridiculed and held up to hatred by a hundred miserable ideologues from the Red Blotch of New York, is nevertheless a true representative of his district and of the emotions and principles of most of the people of the state. Vito Marcantonio, of New York, fairly represents the Communists in his district and the European prejudices and temperamental peculiarities of many of the inhabitants. Communists or not, Rankin is ferociously American, as the people of Mississippi showed they were when the white boys enlisted as volunteers in far greater proportion than the youth of New York districts which had been howling for Hitler's blood for years. Now came the showdown and the southern boys flocked to the colors. In New York many of the draft-board clientele were asking deferment lest their aged fathers, 50 years old, be destitute. Psychiatrists were whipping the term "anxiety neurosis" as a euphemism for fear to excuse cowards. In the lower house, the southern and western members are calm when metropolitan members from the east bewail indifference to the plight of a hundred European localities and factions. They are "more American" by far. They are just American.

In Baton Rouge, more than 15 years ago, Huey Long went straight up in the air with his state capitol. There was plenty of room for spread, but magnificent distances, a sentimental boast of Washington, are a waste and a liability. Our national capitol has many rooms tucked away in high and beautiful examples of clumsy design and stupid waste. They should have been combined with the Senate and House chambers and committee rooms and many of the now scattered reference rooms all under one high roof.

The old House office building was finished in 1906. Before it was building the members did their business in the committee rooms under the big dome and kept their papers in their living quarters in hotels or rooming houses. Most of them lived on or near the Hill in the region of the capitol. The sessions were short and the pay of $5,000 or $6,000, and about $1,200 a year for clerical work, was very good for a part-time job. It was a good living. A dollar a day was mighty good pay in the campaign slogan of a day when a soup-bone cost a nickel and a quart of milk or loaf of bread the same. A Congressman's pay of roughly $100 a week was aristocratic then and the more so inasmuch as he worked only a few weeks each session. Now he gets $15,000 and still keeps a home or a fictitious home back in his district, and the job runs roughly around the calendar. The Methodist building, which for a long time housed the late Wayne B. Wheeler's political power-house during prohibition, still is a home for some of the modest or unpretentious members. There are two or three similar apartments on the hill, but many of the members of both Houses are scattered all over the city. So are the great dumb bureaus in enormously wasteful tombs with solid walls.

In the old House office building each member had one room, usually with a glass-partitioned sanctum for the member himself and his conferences. The new building was opened in the thirties. Now each member has two rooms, but still nothing has been done about rubbing out blocks of useless old hutchies near the capitol and running up reasonably decent living quarters for the members.

The British M.P.'s have no such burdens of stogy correspondence, investigation and legislation. No other free parliament in the world is comparable in size and responsibility. (Copyright, 1947, by King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

Leaves From Boyle's Notebook

By HAL BOYLE

Yonkers, N. Y. (CP)—There is a stranger at the door of a small basement apartment here, and he isn't Santa Claus.

The stranger is death. He has been waiting at the threshold for so long now that Thomas and Lila Linehan have almost reconciled themselves to the time when he will enter.

Their three-year-old daughter, Peggie Ann, knows that he is coming for her, but she doesn't quite understand what it all means. The endless lethargy she soon will know already has slowed her. But she is looking forward happily to a Christmas party. She doesn't remember she already has had her Christmas party—three weeks ago, when it seemed the stranger at the door could be put off no longer.

The mother told me about it in the small family living room, bright with Christmas decorations, as Peggie Ann played listlessly on a sofa with her 18-month-old sister, Judy. Mrs. Linehan, a slim, dark-haired girl is Canadian. She met her husband while working with the Red Cross in Alaska, where he was stationed with the American Air Forces. She came here four years ago, one of the first war brides. Tom Linehan works in a fish store here.

Hopeless Case
 In September, 1946, an operation on Peggie Ann disclosed cancer and the young parents were told their child's condition was hopeless.

Early this month she was stricken again and, hospital physicians said they didn't expect Peggie Ann to live.

"That Night Father Gallagher of our parish gave her the last rites," said Mrs. Linehan. "Her feet were icy cold. Her body was dead, but her heart still beat."

"The next morning she came out of her coma—by the will of God."

The doctors let us take her home to—

Just then Peggie Ann lifted her grave brown eyes, and the mother finished the sentence softly: "Home to die." She spelled the last word.

"We had the Christmas party for her on Dec. 10th. We had a fine Christmas tree, but we couldn't get her many things because the money has all gone for medical expenses. There was a small doll and a toy piano, some picture books—and the neighborhood children brought her some gifts."

Doesn't Remember
 Peggie Ann, dressed in pajamas and a yellow robe figured with red apples, looked up and said: "I want my dollie." Her mother got it. The child calls her doll "Little Judy" to distinguish it from her sister, who is "Big Judy."

"She lives only on ginger ale now," said Mrs. Linehan. "She drinks two quarts a day. That is all her stomach will hold, except for some vitamins and a little candy now and then."

She suffers at night and the doctors left me something to quiet her when the pain is too bad. She knows what is going to happen. Often in the evening when she feels bad she says, "Daddy, I think I'm dying. I'm awfully sick. But I don't want to go to the hospital."

Peggie Ann, holding no memory of the Christmas she already has had is expecting more presents for her doll—a small cradle, a toy refrigerator and some tiny pots and pans "So I can cook meals for Little Judy."

Her mother said that, despite the family budget situation, some way would be found to get the toys if Santa Claus comes in before the stranger at the door.

"The doctor says she may go anytime in her sleep now," said Mrs. Linehan. "We're just grateful we've had her this long."

The Linehans live at 4 Mulford Gardens, a government-sponsored housing project.

Japanese Predicts Major Earthquake

Heavily-Populated District Is Forecast Zone

Tokyo, Dec. 22 (AP)—Dr. Kenzo Sasa, who's been right before, has predicted that a major earthquake is inevitable in the heavily-populated Kansai district, embracing Kyoto, Osaka and Wakayama, and jittery residents have started packing, Kyodo news agency said today.

Dr. Sasa, professor of physics at Kyoto University, did not set a time for the promised upheaval, but Kansai residents haven't waited for him to name the day. "Already," said Kyodo, "they are evacuating Kansai and many others are standing by for the first onrush tremor before racing for the hills with their already packed belongings."

On December 5, Sasa warned of a possible quake in the area. A few hours later one occurred. The area in southeast Honshu was hard-hit by an earthquake and tidal wave a year ago.

Dr. Sasa studies such factors as increases in "earthquake energy," expansion or contraction of the earth's surface, hardening or softening of strata five miles or more below the earth's surface.

New Blast Opened
Even as Phillips letter was being distributed the Moscow radio launched a new blast against the Marshall plan, declaring its "essence" was "war."

Combining its commentary on President Truman's message to Congress Friday with a discussion of Marshall's address the same day on the failure of the Big Four talks in London, the Moscow broadcast said:

"When the United States announced a four-year program of expenditure to revive Germany's heavy industry, her war potential, one recalls another four-year program for the development of Germany's economy—the notorious plan of Goering and Hitler."

The plan was adopted in 1936 to prepare the German war machine for the Second World War, and (Hjalmar) Schacht was the financial head behind that plan. Now we see another four-year plan for so-called aid to Europe, and again the sinister figure of Schacht. The essence of the two plans is the same—war."

The references to Schacht apparently were based on stories from Berlin some months ago disclosing that the former Reichsbank president had been questioned by U. S. Occupation authorities. Gen. Lucius D. Clay, American military governor, later said the interrogation was connected with the Nuremberg war crimes trials and had nothing to do with a plan Schacht was reported to have for German recovery.

Schacht is now serving an eight year term imposed by a German denazification court following his acquittal in the first of the Nuremberg trials.

Asked 17 Billions
The Moscow broadcast said that President Truman had asked Congress for $17,000,000,000 within the next four years to finance the Marshall Plan in Europe and added:

"The greater share of this sum is assigned for Germany—but not to establish the unity of the democratic state, to revive her civilian industry. The Marshall plan and American billions are to be used to transform western Germany into an arsenal of American expansion."

Observers here, meanwhile, expressed belief that the "Red belt" states of Europe were moving into a fairly solid bloc to contend for Communist domination of the continent—standardizing their programs under Russian direction to resist western bids for leadership. From conversations with both western and eastern representatives attending the recent Foreign Ministers Conference here, these observers forecast the following possibilities early in 1948:

(1) The eastern and western states will revamp their foreign policies in the light of the situation in Germany, where a state of informal partition now exists. This may lead to a series of new regional defense allowances, to guard against new German aggression.

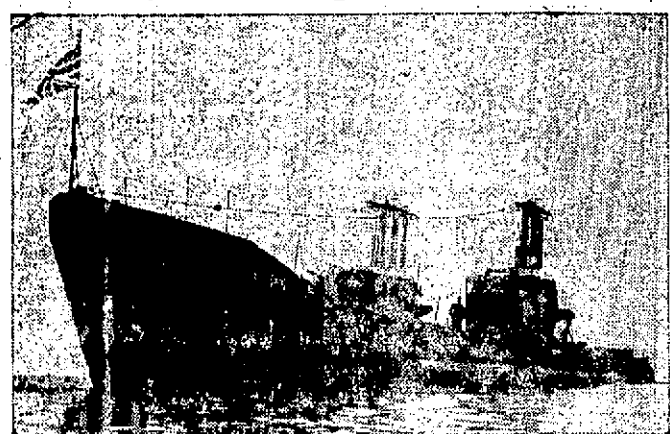

(2) Red belt states of the Balkans will intensify the process they have already started of cementing their political and economic links with the countries of the Danube basin.

(3) A clearcut eastern European recovery plan, under Russian leadership, is likely to develop, with the objective of outstripping the Marshall Plan and gaining the political whiphand.

'Feller' Gets Limelight
Washington, Dec. 22 (AP)—"Feller," the new White House mascot, got a taste of the limelight today—photographers, reporters, and a visit from President Truman himself. The little five-week-old silver buff cocker spaniel, sent to Mr. Truman as a gift, was described as a "very unhappy" pup last night, which Press Secretary Homer G. Ross attributed to homesickness. Feller's mascot began yesterday after arriving aboard a plane from Mrs. Peter J. Marsden of Galena, Ill.

To Exchange Views
London, Dec. 22 (AP)—Britain and the United States will exchange views immediately over the U. S. State Department's decision to halt further reparations deliveries of dismantled German plants to Russia and eastern Europe, the Foreign Office announced today. High government sources said Britain opposes the move because it would, in effect, void the Potsdam agreement and could open the way for far-reaching Soviet reprisals.

Sub Stays Submerged Several Weeks

Establishing a record for remaining underwater, the 1250-ton British submarine Alliance stayed submerged for "several weeks" during a recent cruise in African waters. The vessel, which carried a crew of 67, is pictured on its return to its base at Portsmouth, England.

Crew members of the 1250-ton British submarine Alliance, which established a record for remaining submerged, relax in their quarters following the vessel's return to its Portsmouth, England, base. The sub stayed under for "several weeks" during a cruise to African waters.

Will Conduct Hearing

New York, Dec. 22 (AP)—The Immigration and Naturalization Service of the U. S. Department of Justice announced today it will conduct a hearing tomorrow to determine whether Nicholas Kyriazidis, Greek newspaperman accredited to the United Nations, is subject to deportation. The announcement by W. F. Watkins, district director of the service, said Kyriazidis was arrested here December 17 under an immigration warrant charging "his belief and membership in and affiliation with an organization advising, advocating and teaching the overthrow by force and violence of the government of the United States." Kyriazidis now is held at Ellis Island in default of $5,000 bail.

Elwyn to Accept Discharges From All Local Vets

Woodstock, Dec. 22—Benjamin Buley, commander, American Legion Woodstock Post, 1025, believing there is some confusion in the minds of local veterans' with regard to when and where to have their discharge papers photostated, reiterates that all veterans in the township, whether or not they are members of the American Legion, may take their discharge papers to Grant Elwyn, town clerk, who will arrange to have photostatic copies made immediately. As sufficient numbers of discharges are received, Mr. Elwyn or a member of his committee handling this work, will take them to the county clerk's office in Kingston. This service is rendered without any charge to the veteran. The method being followed is that requested by the county clerk.

It is necessary for every veteran who will be eligible for the New York State Bonus, to have a photostat copy of his discharge which will be forwarded with his bonus application. The application blanks will be sent to the Legion commanders and in Woodstock, Commander Buley will turn them over to Grant Elwyn for distribution as he believes the town clerk's office will be the most convenient place for the veterans to get their applications and fill them out. It is expected that the application blanks will be in the town clerk's office by December 31.

4,000 Egyptians Strike

Cairo, Dec. 22 (AP)—Four thousand workers on the Egyptian State Railways started a slowdown strike today in a demand for higher wages. Railway officials expressed hope the strike would be of short duration, for they said the railway board of directors had approved an allocation of funds to meet the workers' demands. Cairo police declared a state of emergency while a state of emergency was declared by private school teachers, secondary school students, government hospital nurses and industrial school girls. Police trucks pattrolled the main thoroughfares to prevent demonstrations which the police apparently feared might break out in connection with the strikes.

This Gal Doubts Charms

Spencer, Ia., Dec. 22 (AP)—Speak no more to 11-year-old Nancy Thompson about the good luck charms of the rabbit foot. Nancy, playing the clarinet at a Parent-Teacher Association program here, had her trusted rabbit's foot with her as usual. But Nancy was tripped by the foot. It became caught in the keys of the instrument and the embarrassed girl was helplessly halted in her musical rendition.

Sprinkler Is Set Off

The sprinkler system bell sounded at Herzog's Supply Company building on North Front street Sunday afternoon at 4:50 o'clock, the fire department reported. Firemen forced entrance in the rear door and shut off the system and installed a new head, after determining that the old one had fused because of an oil burner blow. Firemen said there was slight water damage, but no fire damage.

Peters' Case Postponed

The case of the people against John Russell Peters, Saugerties, which was scheduled to be heard in city court today, has been postponed for two weeks by City Judge

Matthew V. Cahill. Peters was arrested and charged with driving while intoxicated and with third degree assault with an automobile following the accident in which Chief of Police Ernest A. Boss was injured on November 14. Police said Peters was the driver of the car which was in collision with Chief Boss' car at the corner of Smith avenue and Cornell street.

Inspiring Men to Think
Many of the outstanding executives in this country today, came, at one time or another, under the influence of dynamic John Patterson, the founder of the National Cash Register Company.

E. St. Elmo Lewis, the famous Detroit business counselor, was at one time advertising manager under Patterson. Reminiscing on his experiences, Lewis told in a recent talk how Patterson used showmanship to inspire his staff to think.

Coming down to the office one morning, the employees were startled to see floating from each one of the 36 flag poles, a banner upon which appeared the one word, THINK. The blotters at each desk had the same magic word printed on them, THINK. When heads of the various departments went to their staff luncheon they found the word THINK on their napkins. After the luncheon, a gigantic card was lowered from the ceiling, listing the errors of each department for the past week. And then Patterson got to his feet and told his staff that each one of those errors was caused by failure to THINK. He said that he wanted more THINKING and fewer errors. . . and he got what he was after!

Men respond to drama and showmanship much more readily and enthusiastically than they respond to dull, prosaic instructions. We need more inspiration in business.

Cheaper to Buy Peace Than Send U.S. Youth to War Again

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
(AP Foreign Affairs Analyst)

We get a stark picture of a war-shattered Europe which is struggling in an economic slough of despond from which it cannot escape without outside help. Meantime aggressive Communism is threatening to overrun the distressed countries.

"The next few years," warns the President, "can determine whether the free countries of Europe will be able to preserve their heritage of freedom."

If they can't such a turn of events might well compel America to modify her own economic system and forego many of her freedoms and privileges. And the Chief Executive makes this grim point:

"The last two decades have taught us the bitter lesson that no economy, not even one so strong as our own, can remain healthy and prosperous in a world of poverty and want. Our deepest concern with European recovery, however, is that it is essential to the maintenance of the civilization in which the American way of life is rooted."

Red Tide Threatens
That's the big issue. Apart from any altruistic viewpoint on our part, the western hemisphere is threatened by the Red tide. And what is the cost of helping Europe regain her feet and of maintaining our own way of life? Of this Mr. Truman says:

"The program of aid to Europe which I am recommending is well within our capacity to undertake. Its total cost, though large (about $17,000,000,000) will be only about five per cent of the cost of our effort in the recent war."

Obviously, the corollary is that it would be cheaper to head-off a third World War than to fight it, and that's a point which this column has emphasized before. Seventeen billion dollars—or what money—and its expenditure brings small cheer to the hapless taxpayer, but to my mind this mountain of cash doesn't matter a tinker's damn as compared with another outlay which war would involve.

Dollar Signs on Crosses
Did you ever stand beside one of those great military cemeteries which are the product of the last two World Wars? Thousands upon thousands of white crosses stretching off across the acres as far as the eye can reach. You can't help once a dollar sign against one of those emblems of sacrifice.

The world needs no further evidence of America's willingness to fight, if necessary. We'll fight all right when the occasion demands. But we're not going to send our sons and mine across to fight again just to avoid paying taxes to avert another global conflict which likely would be so disastrous as to make the last one look insignificant. The cash investment would pay big dividends. Of this Mr. Truman says:

"As an investment toward the peace and security of the world life for the future, this cost is small indeed."

from Bolshevism, now need question that. The consensus of impartial observers is that this constitutes the greatest menace which free nations have faced since the days of great conquerors.

Victim of Typhoid

Lancaster, Pa., Dec. 22 (AP)—A 19-year-old bride at whose wedding reception health authorities said nine other persons contracted typhoid fever, has herself fallen victim of the disease.

Dr. A. J. Greenleaf, Lancaster county medical director, said yesterday he has diagnosed as typhoid fever the illness of Mrs. Margaret Finkelman Bollinger, under treatment at her parents' home in nearby Mountville.

All 10 victims, Dr. Greenleaf said, were among the 76 persons at the Thanksgiving day reception given for Mrs. Bollinger and her bridegroom, Roy, at the Bollinger farm near Littleton, Pa.

Dr. Greenleaf said state medical authorities are attempting to trace all those who attended the reception in an effort to halt the spread of the disease.

Taft Will Visit Minnesota
On Another Nomination Sortie

Washington, Dec. 22 (AP)—Senator Taft of Ohio is going west again in his race for the Republican presidential nomination, this time on a tour which will take him into Harold E. Stassen's home state of Minnesota.

Taft's visit to Minneapolis for a Lincoln Day address February 12 is in the nature of returning a call Stassen made to Ohio in October. Because each was consulted in advance and approved the other's invasion of his home grounds, talk of a tacit understanding between the two has grown.

Both are announced candidates for the nomination. Both are interested in seeking that Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York doesn't repeat at the June convention in Philadelphia his successful bid for the 1944 nomination.

Each would like to inherit the other's strength if one falls by the wayside in the early convention.

While both men insist they have no agreement, few politicians think that Stassen will risk incurring the displeasure of the Taft adherents by going into the May 4 primary in Ohio. Similarly, Taft evidently plans only to show himself to the people of Minnesota in the hope that they will remember him if Stassen is eliminated from the competition.

Has Better Fish

But the Ohio senator has more succulent political fish to fry in two other speaking dates, and possibly two more, on the February trip. It is one of the few on which he will embark while Congress is in session.

Arrangements have been made for him to speak at a Lincoln Day dinner in Omaha February 13 and at a similar affair in Denver February 14.

Taft's visit to Omaha comes just four days before a scheduled pre-primary convention of Nebraska Republicans. Operating under machinery provided by state law, the convention can endorse candidates for state and national office whose names will appear on the April 13 primary ballot.

While Taft has said he doesn't expect to enter any primaries outside of Ohio, he conceivably could be pushed into the Nebraska convention by his friends. Nebraska has 15 votes in the Philadelphia convention.

Serious Contender

Taft is being counted as a serious contender for Colorado's 15 convention votes since his trip to the Pacific coast in September and October aroused more western interest in his candidacy. With a definite speaking date in Denver, Taft also may be lined up for a talk in Colorado Springs.

He expects to round out the trip with a talk in Bloomington, Ill., either on the way west or on his return.

In the meantime, the Ohio senator is going to take advantage of Congress' Christmas vacation for a two-day foray into Missouri. He has speaking dates before the Missouri Republican Club at Kansas City December 29 and before the John Marshall Club at St. Louis December 30.

This will take him into the hotbed of support for Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower in Kansas City and close to Kansas where the general is expected to have his home base of delegates if he bids for the Republican nomination as it seems likely he will do.

The heart of an insect is a slender tube suspended along the midline of the back, close to the dorsal wall of the body.

Concern Is Felt

Nanking, Dec. 22 (AP)—Government sources expressed grave concern today that destructive attacks by Chinese Communists on the Peiping-Mukden railway would force the government to abandon besieged Mukden, major south Manchurian city. These sources said it was proving almost impossible to supply the heavily garrisoned city by air. Reports from Mukden said Deputy Director of the Airforce Gen. Wang Hsu-Ping, the famed "Tiger Wang" of the war against Japan, had arrived there to confer with Gen. Chen Cheng, overall commander in Manchuria, on the problem of maintaining air support.

Monkey Attacks Woman, 150 Stitches Needed

Mobile, Ala., Dec. 22 (AP)—A six pound pet monkey escaped from his cage here yesterday and bit a 52-year-old grandmother so severely that 150 stitches were required to close the wounds.

Physicians attending Mrs. Myrtle D. Webster said she suffered a severed tendon of the leg and multiple lacerations of the arm and legs.

N. M. Webster, husband of the victim, said the monkey, a female with reputation as a "woman hater," escaped while a grandson was feeding it candy.

At Webster's behest, a son-in-law killed the monkey with a shotgun blast. First, however, Webster fed the pet a last supper of preserves.

Cookies Make Christmas Gift

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Staff Writer

Here's an old-time traditional Christmas sweet. There's still time to make a batch, package them with holly and ribbon and present to friends on Christmas.

Molasses Fruit Patties

(Makes about 60 cookies)

One cup shortening, 2½ cups sifted flour, 1½ teaspoons baking soda, 1 teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon cinnamon, 1 teaspoon nutmeg, ¼ cup light molasses, ¼ cup sugar, 1 egg, unbeaten, 1 cup raisins, 1 cup nutmeats, ¼ cup combined citron, orange peel and lemon peel.

Melt shortening in 3 or 4-quart saucepan over very low fire. Remove from fire; let cool. Mix and sift flour, soda, salt and spices.

Add molasses, sugar and unbeaten egg to cooled shortening and mix well. Add dry ingredients and mix thoroughly. Combine raisins, nutmeats, citron, orange and lemon peel and put through food chopper, using fine blade; stir them into batter. Drop by heaping teaspoonfuls, 2 inches apart, on greased cookie sheet. Bake in hot over 425 degrees F.) 10 to 15 minutes, or until brown.

Old-fashioned jelly tarts, with centers as red as holly berries, belong in the Christmas entertaining scheme.

Old-Fashioned Red Jelly Tarts
(Makes about 1½ to 2 dozen tarts)

Two and one-quarter cups all-purpose flour, 1½ teaspoons baking flour, ¼ teaspoon salt, ½ cup butter, 1 cup sugar, 2 eggs, well beaten, 1 teaspoon vanilla extract, 1 tablespoon milk or cream, tart jelly.

Sift flour on square waxed paper once, measure, add baking powder and salt, sift again. Cream butter in mixing bowl with wooden spoon. Add sugar gradually and continue to mix until light and fluffy. Add eggs, vanilla extract and milk; beat thoroughly. Add sifted dry ingredients gradually and blend. Chill until dough is firm enough to handle, about 2 hours. Roll out dough ⅜-inch thick on lightly floured board. Cut half the cookies with floured doughnut cutter, the other half with floured plain round cookie cutter. Bake on ungreased cookie sheets in moderately hot oven (375 degrees F.) for 10 to 12 minutes. Turn the plain round cookies upside down and spread bottom of each with 1 teaspoon bright red jelly. Top each with a ring cookie.

TOMORROW'S MENU

BREAKFAST: Baked apples, ready-to-eat cereal, whole wheat toast, butter or fortified margarine, coffee, milk.

LUNCHEON: Toasted peanut butter and chopped raw vegetable sandwiches, cottage cheese and jelly sandwiches, fruit bowl, tea, milk.

DINNER: Kidney stew, baked potatoes, 8-minute shredded cabbage, soft rolls, butter or fortified margarine, raw carrot sticks, raisin and cranberry tarts, coffee, milk.

$100,000 in Gems Stolen in New York

Victim Had Returned From Sunday Exhibit at Jersey Resort

New York, Dec. 22 (AP)—Within a few feet of a throng of Sunday afternoon Fifth avenue strollers, three men robbed a jeweler of gems valued at almost $100,000 in the lobby of a building at 48th street yesterday and escaped after tying him to a banister, police said.

The victim, Albert Zaklin, 50, partner in the firm of L. Barton Brookov, Inc., told police the men followed him into the deserted lobby as he was returning the jewelry to the company's office after a week-end display at a hotel in Lakewood, N. J. The company has been displaying jewelry in Lakewood on week-ends for the past nine years, bringing it back on Sunday afternoons, and there never had been a holdup until yesterday, Zaklin said.

He had been making the return trip personally for the past two years.

Zaklin wriggled free from his bonds after the robbers had melted into the crowd of Sunday strollers.

The jeweler said the three men, two of them armed, seized three cases containing diamond rings, watches, bracelets and necklaces, and tied him by the wrists to a banister with twine from the cases, which were wrapped in brown paper.

One of the robbers, Zaklin told police, said during the holdup, "I know you, Al, and I also know Louis," the latter referring to Brookov, who is Zaklin's father-in-law.

After getting free, Zaklin ran to the office of a protective agency, which covers the jewelry firm, and notified police. He said the robbers also took his wallet containing $200.

The jewelry had been displayed at a concession at the Laurel-In-the-Pines Hotel, at Lakewood, and Zaklin drove there in his car to return it. Police said the jewelry was insured.

Stole Kiss and $35

Philadelphia, Dec. 22 (AP)—A young robber stole a kiss from a pretty candy store attendant and then escaped with $35 after slugging her over the head with his revolver, police reported. Detectives said Juanita Giffin, 16, told them the robber kissed her suddenly after entering the candy store last night, then hit her over the head with the butt end of his gun and ran from the store with register.

the money. Juanita, who was treated for a head cut, said the young robber appeared flustered as he fled, dropping some of the money he had taken from a cash register.

Will Become 'Reality'

New York, Dec. 22 (AP)—Assemblyman Bernard Austin, Brooklyn Democrat, predicted yesterday that a legal ban against discrimination in state educational institutions will become a reality in the 1948 session of the legislature.

Addressing 200 post commanders of the Jewish War Veterans' New York Department, Austin said the "divergence of opinion which prevented passage of the bill at the last session apparently has been reconciled."

There was some church and college support for the Austin-Haney bill in the 1947 legislature, which would have banned discrimination and quota regulations. The state J.W.V. post commanders met to open a campaign for a bill outlawing educational discrimination.

Agree to Return

Rome, Dec. 22 (AP)—The Italian Labor Ministry announced today that 300,000 food workers who staged a nationwide strike 48 hours ago had agreed to return to work at midnight tonight on a promise of increases in wages and severance pay. The announcement removed the threat of Christmas-time food shortages confronting the nation and temporarily relieved pressure on Premier Alcide De Gasperi's government, embarrassed by a multitude of leftist-inspired strikes and labor disorders. Some observers, however, expressed the fear that leftist-led labor's continuing demands for greater benefits would wreck the anti-inflation budget of Vice-Premier Luigi Einaudi.

Draws Suspended Term

Baltimore, Dec. 22 (AP)—A 17-year-old high school boy, convicted December 10 of manslaughter in the brickbat slaying of a New York divorcee, drew a five-year-suspended prison term today and was ordered held under care of a noted psychiatrist for mental observation. Judge Joseph Sherbow, who said the case was "the saddest" he had ever tried, declared that "sending this boy to a penal institution is not the answer. Yet he must be kept away from the general public until we know with certainty whether it is safe for him to come back into the community." The sentence was suspended upon condition that Mack be transferred to Stony Lodge, Ossining, N. Y., and remain under the care and custody of Dr. Bernard C. Glueck.

Gearhart Is Killed

Vienna, Dec. 22 (AP)—P.F.C. Samuel Gearhart, 23, of Allentown, Pa., was the American soldier who died Saturday of injuries received in a fight with a Russian journalist. U. S. authorities announced his identification today. Officials said a letter probably will be sent to Russian headquarters charging the Russian, Stefan Ingrin, also 23, with "some degree of murder." Col. H. B. Hurless, provost marshal, said Russian authorities had been cooperative in the investigation. He quoted Ingrin as saying he started the fight because he was "insulted."

Fighting Is Reported

Jerusalem, Dec. 22 (AP)—Reliable private sources said today that "large scale" Arab-Jewish fighting had broken out this morning at Tazur—scene of clashes yesterday which brought to 300 the unofficial count of deaths since the United Nations decided to partition the Holy Land. The sources said the fighting today broke out when sizeable Jewish forces—presumably units of Hagana—attacked Arab bands in reprisal for recent Arab attacks on Jewish truck convoys. Tazur is on the main highway between Jerusalem and Tel Aviv.

Beersheba today is an Arab town 45 miles south of Jerusalem.

Chennault Is Wed To Chinese Woman At Surprise Rites

Shanghai, Dec. 22 (AP)—Passing up a honeymoon, General Claire L. Chennault, famed commander of the wartime Flying Tigers, was at his air transport service desk as usual today after surprising friends by taking a pretty 24-year-old Chinese reporter as his second wife.

In a Lutheran wedding ceremony yesterday, performed under a giant bell of chrysanthemums out of which doves flew, the 57-year-old retired major general married petite, English-speaking Anna Chan.

A small, intimate circle of friends witnessed the single ring rites at Chennault's big home in Holly Heath, toasted the couple's health with Chinese champagne, then sat down to a wild duck dinner. His chief recreation is duck hunting.

Chennault's favorite black Dachshund, Joe, twice interrupted the ceremony performed by the Rev. Ralph Mortenson, of the China Bible House. Each time, the dog had to be shooed from the room.

Today the bride, a modishly-dressed woman whose romance with Chennault first blossomed a year ago, returned to her city beat for the Chinese Central News Agency, but she was somewhat undecided whether to keep her job. On several occasions it had called for interviews with Chennault.

The famed airman, whose first marriage to his American wife ended in divorce in 1946, after 35 years, had notified intimate friends quietly only two days ago that he planned to wed Miss Chan. He explained that he wished to avoid the fuss of a big wedding. Chennault wore his air force dress uniform, Miss Chan a white silk wedding gown and veil. The bride's father, Dr. Y. W. Chan, is consul-designate at Kueiling, Sarawak, and formerly was consul at San Francisco.

Chennault organized the Flying Tigers among volunteer American airmen as protectors of the Burma Road against Japanese raiders before the United States entered the war. After the entry, he was made commander of the new U. S. 14th air force. Since war's end, he organized an airline which flies UNRRA supplies to China and hopes to convert it into a commercial line.

Chennault, a personal friend of Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek, has told friends that he expects to spend the remainder of his life in China.

I had an interesting visitor from the West Indies recently, L. E. Ashenbrenner of Kingston, Jamaica, president of the Jamaica Bridge Association. He went over our Master Point plan very carefully in order to establish it in Jamaica. Mr. Ashenbrenner gave me today's hand, while at first glance, especially with a club opening, does not seem to present much of a problem. Deceiver should have six diamonds, three club tricks, a heart stopper and plenty of opportunity to establish the spades. But let's try to make it!

Deceiver won the first trick with the ten of clubs in dummy, cashed the ace of clubs, and led a spade. East won this with the king and returned a club, which South won with the king. He led the jack of diamonds, overtaking in dummy and hoping for a diamond break—but East had four to the ten.

Another lead South might have tried: With the first trick with the ten of clubs, play a diamond to the jack, go back to the ace of clubs and run the rest of the diamonds. But he would have found himself in trouble for diamonds. East and West would make three tricks in the suit South discarded from, and the ace and king of the other.

Mr. Ashenbrenner gave me his solution: After the ten of clubs holds the first trick, come over to the South hand with the jack of diamonds, play a small club to dummy's ace, and cash only four more diamonds, discarding a small club, a heart and two spades. You lead a spade from dummy. You have taken five diamond tricks and two club tricks, and at this point Mr. Ashenbrenner says that all the opponents can do is to cash their two aces and kings.

However, West hangs on to the queen-ten of clubs, and wins the first spade lead with the ace. He could lead another club, and South would have to win. Then the opponents would all cash the king of spades, ace-king of hearts and queen of clubs.

Cholera Epidemic Reported in Syria

Damascus, Syria, Dec. 22 (AP)—The government enlisted hundreds of physicians and medical students in an emergency vaccination program today to combat a cholera epidemic which broke out in Syria during the week-end.

Infected areas were isolated and public health authorities broadcast instructions for preventing measures. A group of medical experts, sent from Cairo at the request of Premier Jamil Mardam Bey, arrived by plane yesterday to assist in organizing the anti-cholera campaign.

Egypt recently had a severe epidemic.

Mark Hellinger, 44, Dies in California Of Heart Attack

Hollywood, Dec. 22 (AP)—Mark Hellinger, one of Broadway's most prolific chroniclers, is dead.

The former newspaper reporter who turned out hundreds of short stories about New York life, and then turned to the movies, died yesterday of a heart attack. He was 44 years old.

Only a few days ago, Hellinger completed his final production, "The Naked City," which he told friends is "my celluloid monument to New York."

While gaining stature as a writer and producer of motion pictures in the last decade, he continued to write a weekly story and column for King Syndicate. He also served briefly as a war correspondent for International News Service in the South Pacific and India during World War II.

He died at Cedars of Lebanon Hospital a few hours after being seized with severe chills at his home high in the Hollywood hills.

His wife, the former Gladys Glad, ex-Ziegfeld Follies beauty, was at his side when death came. They had two adopted children, Mark, six, and Gladys, five.

Hellinger was born in New York March 21, 1903, and joined the staff of the New York News in 1924. Five years later he switched to the New York Mirror. He came to Hollywood in 1936.

when his story "Broadway Bill" was adapted to the screen.

His short stories, collected in the volumes "Moon Over Broadway" and "The Ten Million," were likened by some critics to those of O. Henry. They gave a sharp picture of the big city and its people. Funeral services will be held at 11 a. m. Wednesday.

Girl, 14, Gets Baby She Hoped for by Christmas

Pittsburgh, Dec. 22 (AP)—Patricia Miner, who obtained a court order last Feb. 22 to marry a 14-year-old boy, is back home today with the baby she had hoped for by Christmas.

Patricia, now 15, was given special permission by the Fayette county common pleas court to wed 21-year-old Griffith Sullivan, a baker. Such permission is required under Pennsylvania law if the bride-to-be is under 16.

Both mother and daughter "are doing fine," Sullivan said, adding: "Patty wanted a baby girl for Christmas. She got her wish and we named the baby after her. I sort of wanted a boy but I'm satisfied. Everything is working out just fine."

Winter Comes Lightly; State Weather Good

Albany, N. Y., Dec. 22 (AP)—Winter's formal entrance today threatened to leave New Yorkers rather cold and unstirred.

No commotion preceded the arrival, timed by the U. S. Weather Bureau for 11:43 a. m., Eastern Standard Time.

The mercury climbed toward yesterday's mid-thirties generally, after crouching in the twenties overnight.

The Weather Bureau said tomorrow would be about the same except for a slight rise in temperatures in the eastern portion, along the coast.

Early morning temperatures included:

New York city 35, Albany 23, Glens Falls 23, Ticonderoga 20, Utica 20, Syracuse 27, Elmira 29.

Binghamton 29, Rochester 28, Buffalo 29.

GIRL IN THE WRONG

This question comes from a man: "If I take a girl to a radio quiz program and I take part and win a sum of money, am I supposed to share this with her? I hadn't even imagined there was any excuse for writing you about this. But after discovering that the girl has been nursing a grievance ever since because I didn't divide my winnings with her, I thought I might be wrong."

If she had no share in answering the quiz, most certainly you were not wrong. In fact, nothing could be less proper than for a lady to accept money from a gentleman.

A Seating Puzzle

Dear Mrs. Post: I intend to have my daughter's fiancé and family to dinner in the near future and would appreciate your helping me with the seating arrangements. My family consists of my husband, daughter and myself. His family includes his mother, father and two married sisters.

Answer: The seating of this table is extremely difficult. In order to seat the mother of the groom on the right of the host and the father of the groom on the right of the hostess and seat the bride and groom next to each other, it is impossible to avoid putting either the older or younger sister next to you. Even this is a problem, for the older sister would be impossible, but at an informal dinner there would be no serious objection to this.

However, if you care about avoiding seating a husband next to his wife, then the only way to accomplish this is by placing the father of the groom on your left instead of right. It works out perfectly if you seat the table in this order. On your husband's right, mother of groom, next, older brother-in-law, next, younger sister, then father of groom next to you. The younger brother-in-law would be seated on your right, the older sister next and then your daughter's fiancé and then your daughter.

Food Served in Casserole
Dear Mrs. Post: What is the correct way to eat food that is served in a casserole?

Answer: It depends on the size of the casserole. An individual one often is put on the plate in front of you and you eat directly out of it. Otherwise, if it is a big one, you serve yourself to a portion from it and put it on your plate.

Worker mass meetings in various cities yesterday brought sheafs of telegrams to the union negotiators pledging support in the walkout.

The three unions involved are the Commercial Telegraphers Union of America, and Telegraph Workers Union of Dallas.

Their 50,000 workers in 3,000 Western Union offices voted overwhelmingly for the strike.

While Ching was meeting with the opposing parties yesterday, Joseph A. Beirne, president of the Independent Communications Workers of America, announced that his union will seek pay boosts for 230,000 telephone workers as their contracts come up for renewal next spring.

Plans for the approaching wage talks will be discussed at a union meeting here the week of January 19, Beirne said.

Weiss guilty of procuring a large number of Russian war prisoners to manufacture military equipment, such as freight cars, in violation of the Geneva convention.

"Steps taken in this instance were initiated not in governmental circles but in plant management," the court said. "They were not taken as a result of compulsion or fear, but admittedly for the purpose of keeping the plant as near capacity production as possible."

In acquitting Flick's other aides on this same count, the court held that they acted "under compulsion" because the Nazis would have regarded their objections to the use of slave labor as "sabotage" of the war effort.

Flick in his defense maintained that once the war started he acted only as a normal patriotic business man and that he and his associates would have laid themselves open to reprisals by the Nazis had they acted in any other way.

Unlike Farben and Krupp, Flick and his associates were not charged with aggressive warfare.

The court said there was "some shade of justification" for defense claims that "in their persons industry itself is being prosecuted." Because they were not officially connected with the Nazi government but private citizens engaged in heavy industry.

British Guild Says
Criticism 'Prejudiced'

London, Dec. 22 (AP)—The Guild of British newspaper editors has described as "prejudiced and tendentious" some recent criticism of the accuracy of the British Press.

Evidence submitted by the Guild and six other organizations representing publishers and editors was published today by the Royal Commission appointed early this year to investigate ownership and other aspects of the press.

"Standards of press accuracy are much higher than is suggested by a good deal of recent criticism, much of which is prejudiced and tendentious," the Guild said. "Press error—sometimes relatively trivial error—is magnified; press accuracy is seldom commented on."

Other organizations submitting the evidence published today were: The Newspaper Society, Society of Editors, Newspaper Proprietors' Association, Periodicals Trade Press and Weekly Newspaper Proprietors' Association, the Scottish Daily Newspaper Society, and the Scottish Newspaper Proprietors' Association.

The Newspaper Society attacked newspaper rationing, which holds most London dailies to four pages. It declared that "the unfair or unnecessary" use of rationing would be "a most dangerous form of government influence, which could amount to absolute control."

Iran Still Seeks Premier; Two Men Are Nominated

Tehran, Dec. 22 (AP)—Iran was still without a premier today, after parliament, in a tie vote last night, nominated two men—Ibrahim Hakimi and Dr. Mohammad Mosaddegh—to fill the post resigned by Ahmed Qavam, who failed to win a parliamentary confidence vote Dec. 10.

Each nominee received 54 votes, leaving Shah Reza Pahlavi the choice of appointing either one or asking parliament to vote again. Six of the 114 deputies did not participate in the balloting.

Qavam was chosen premier in January, 1946, and headed the government during differences with Russia over the withdrawal of Soviet troops sent into Iran during the war to guard the overland supply route to Russia.

Last August and again in October parliament accorded Qavam votes of confidence.

On Oct. 22 parliament declared void, over Qavam's protest, his understanding with the Russians for the creation of a joint Russian-Iranian oil company to exploit oil resources in northern Iran.

The Soviet press immediately assailed Qavam, asserting he had followed a "treacherous policy" in dealing with Russian authorities.

On Dec. 14 dissident members of Qavam's democratic party occupied party clubs and the editorial office and printing plant of the party's newspaper.

Ulsters Rout Shapiros In Major Battle Here

Kentucky, Notre Dame Lose In Surprise Basketball Upsets

New York, Dec. 22 (AP)—Unbeaten Kansas State and Texas took on the complexion of national powers today as Monday's college basketball wash showed two perennial giants of the court, Kentucky and Oklahoma A. and M., soiled by week-end skirmishing.

The Kansas Staters repelled the Oklahoma Aggies in the finals of the Big Six pre-season tournament Saturday night in Kansas City, 50-43. It was the seventh straight triumph without reversal for K-State, the first defeat for the formidable Aggies.

The Texas Longhorns ran their victory string to eight by conquering St. Joseph's of Philadelphia, 61-57, on the same Philadelphia program that saw Kentucky's highly-regarded Wildcats stub their toe for the first time against Temple, 60-59.

Nelson Robb sank the basket in the last 90 seconds that upset the Kentucky team which was runnerup to Utah in the 1947 National Invitation Tournament in New York.

Play St. John Next
Adolph Rupp's Wildcats from the Blue Grass country will attempt to redeem themselves against St. John's in Madison Square Garden tomorrow night. Iowa and Illinois, the only unbeaten teams in the Big Nine, registered victories Saturday and now have four apiece. The Illinois, scattering the point making, defeated Pennsylvania easily, 70-44.

The Iowa Hawkeyes edged past Washington of St. Louis, 44-41. George Washington, in the Southern Conference, remained among the unblemished by downing Clemson, 60-35, for its ninth straight.

Washington State kept its record unmarred by taking Canisius at Buffalo, 48-37. Colgate remained one of the unbeaten teams in the east by overwhelming Rochester, 61-40.

Notre Dame Surprised
Notre Dame, one of the mid-west's powerful independents, fell before Denver, 61-60, in an upset that followed the pattern of the Kentucky surprise. A basket in the last 15 seconds did the trick.

As the season swings into the holiday lull, here's the sectional picture:
(East)—Columbia believed the team to beat after victory over Holy Cross. Colgate, N.Y.U. and Fordham unbeaten. Holy Cross, Temple, Georgetown rated high.

(Mid-West)—Illinois and Iowa only unbeaten teams but Purdue strong in big nine. Kansas State and Oklahoma powers in big six.

(Southeast)—Georgia setting early pace with seven straight victories. Kentucky, Tennessee already among beaten.

(South)—George Washington and North Carolina State at top of heap. N.C. State, which has lost one in nine starts, defeated St. John's of Brooklyn Saturday in New York, 76-56.

(Southwest)—Texas, with eight victories, has best record in circuit with Baylor and Arkansas next.

(Far West)—Washington State unbeaten. Oregon, Oregon State and Washington—beaten once apiece. Washington getting a split with Minnesota over the week-end.

League Leaders Drop 3 Straight

Kingston bowling squads broke even in two major Hudson Valley League engagements on the Central drives Sunday, as Hotel Ulsters upended the league-leading Newburgh Shapiros in three straight games, while Van Kleeck's suffered a three-game loss at the hands of the Poughkeepsie PVFC.

A powerful 3059 set with 994-1070-995 showed the Ulsters at peak form against the Shapiros who again found the Kingston lanes a graveyard for their pennant aspirations.

Four "600" series were rolled with Charles Tiano setting the pace with 876 on games of 200-250-211. Harold Brookside was right behind with a gaudy 234-218-215 performance. Veteran Wally Gerken and Joey Sears each had 603 for the Shapiros, Gerken with 200-211 and Sears with 222.

J. Schatzel shot 201-586; Randy Kelder 206-589; John Hopshie 202. Poughkeepsie spanked 2938 with a high of 1028 to trounce Van Kleeck's who plummeted to a season low of 2688. William "Chief" Muller led with 218-216-613; Bill Valle registered 225-601; Bert Rhea 201-200-592; Merlin Tice 200-211-591. Dick Howard and "Stooge" Robinson did the best work for Van's, Howard hitting 202-209-578; Robinson 205-203-589.

Hymes Shoes took the middle set against the Eagles in Middle-town. Two big series powered the home club. Art Koeppe posting 213-195-244-632 and Ziggy Dembeck hitting 248-638. Lew Hymes' 201-201-571 led the Kingstonians.

Williamson Ratings

Those really great football artists—Johnny Lujack, "Chuckie" Charlie Conerly, Donk Walker and Barney Poole, in that order—rolled up the most points in the 1947 poll of the Williamson national football system.

This was the first time in 15 years of polling the nation's colleges for All-American nominations that the Williamson system found it statistically difficult to pin down the selections with impartial justice about every section of the country.

These five players stood apart from the others in the points tallied for them.

More than 1,000 players were nominated in the poll and the balanced voting was distributed more evenly among them than ever before. V.M.I., Texas A. & M. and Nebraska were the only "off-year" teams to place players on the first two teams.

Conerly Most Valuable Player
That superb field general and quarterback, Lujack, one of Notre Dame's greatest pigskin brigades, received most votes. That was more or less expected. But surprising Mr. Conerly, of the Cinderellas of Ole Miss, was closely next. It is obvious what the Rebels would have done—or, rather, would not have done—without their Charlie and Barney of 1947. Conerly and Poole broke more national grid records than you can shake a stick at. The Fighting Irish likely could have got along without Mr. Lujack—magnificently though he was.

Therefore, the Williamson System awarded its trophy for the most valuable player of the year to Charles Conerly of Mississippi.

Eagles Blast Pittsburgh, 21-0 For Eastern Division Honors

Pittsburgh, Dec. 22 (AP)—The Philadelphia Eagles today are champs of the National Football League's Eastern Division but they never thought a dream of 14 years would come true so easily.

In a near-perfect offensive and defensive display, the men coached by Earl (Greasy) Naele earned the right to meet the Chicago Cardinals for the circuit title Sunday in Chicago by thumping the Pittsburgh Steelers 21-0 yesterday.

The victory broke the Eagles' jinx of having finished second in the division three straight years.

Few in the capacity house of 35,729 at Forbes Field believed it possible for the Eagles to match the same score by which they defeated the Steelers in Philadelphia during the regular season after losing here 35 to 24.

But from the time Pete Pihos, freshman end from the University of Indiana, blocked a kick and Tommy Thompson tugged a flat pass to Steve Van Buren, good for 15 yards and Philadelphia's first touchdown, it was the Eagles' ball game. Van Buren scored at the 13:19 minute mark of the first quarter.

"I knew we were beaten then," said Dr. John B. (Jack) Sutherland. "One of our tackles failed to block Pihos letting him through to jab (Bob) Cifers' kick."

Quick Kick Menace
"The Eagles threat of quick kicks by (Joe) Muha also pulled our safety man out of position time and again—a factor which Tommy Thompson used to advantage in calling pass plays."

The game had been expected to develop into a bruising battle between two teams that a few years ago were so weak that they were combined under the name of the Steagles. Instead it was a gallup for the Eagles as they went into the finals against a club that also was once a league doormat.

The statistics clearly revealed the superiority of the Eagles. The champs piled up a total of 255 yards, 124 of them on the ground, to Pittsburgh's 154—102 by rushing and 52 through the air. The first downs were 17-7.

Against the aggressive Eagles pass defense, Johnny Clements and Cifers were able to complete only four out of 18 aerials. The Steelers did manage to hold Van Buren, the league's ground gaining record holder, to 45 yards in 18 carries while Clement, thanks to one sprint of 27 yards, picked up 59 in 14 attempts.

Bowling
A tie between the Town Cafe and S. & C. Lunch was effected in the Central Mixed league last night, when the Lunch dropped two to Slove-Jansen-Scheline, while the Cafe swept three from Van Kleeck's.

High scorers were E. Moore and C. Tiano with 513 and 599 respectively. Moore posted 180-167-166, while Tiano hit 194-213-192. Art Jansen rolled 139-329; Rex Slove, 190-539; Irvin Thomas, 184-526; John Schatzel, 225-541; Jake Chichelsky, 224-01-564; Fred Ferraro, 235-647; Dick Howard, 209-212-588; R. Brought Top Woman Ace

New York, Dec. 22 (AP)—For the first time since 1941, some one other than Pauline Betz and Mrs. Sarah Cooke heads the nation's feminine tennis players.

With Miss Betz and Mrs. Cooke in the pro ranks, Louise Brough of Beverly Hills, Calif., who won the national women's title at Forest Hills last summer, was given the No. 1 ranking by the nomination committee of the U. S. Lawn Tennis Association. In the last six years Mrs. Cooke was, top ranked twice while Miss Betz was No. 1 four times.

The No. 2 spot was awarded to Mrs. Margaret Osborne Dupont, close friend and doubles partner of Miss Brough. The California blonde defeated Mrs. Dupont for the championship in a closely fought final.

Doris Hart, Miami, Fla., was ranked third followed by Mrs. Patricia Canning Todd, La Jolla, Calif., November 4; Shirley Fry, Akron, O., No. 5; Barbara Krase, San Francisco, No. 6; Dorothy Head, Alameda, Calif., No. 7; Mrs. Mary Arnold Prentiss, Los Angeles, No. 8; Gertrude Moran, Santa Monica, Calif., No. 9, and Mrs. Helen Pedersen Ribhany, Boston, No. 10.

Miss Brough and Mrs. Dupont also were given top ranking in doubles. J. Gilbert Hall of New York, the national veterans champion, was ranked No. 1 among the over-age players.

The selections still must be approved at the annual meeting of the U.S.L.T.A. January 24 but that usually is a formality.

Olympics
Belgrade—A government spokesman said Yugoslavia had entered 25-member ski team in winter Olympics at St. Moritz.

Madrid—Spanish National Sports delegation decided to send team to winter Olympics at St. Moritz, Switzerland, thus reversing previous decision.

Honolulu—A team of Pacific coast football stars defeated Hawaii's Olympic team, 40-13, in Honolulu Stadium.

Providence, R. I.—Charles A. (Rip) Engle was given new three-year contract as head football coach at Brown University.

Five Contests In Y Circuit Next Two Days

A standout doubleheader is scheduled for the Y Basketball League or the municipal auditorium court tonight, with Sickler's Delivery battling Miron Lumber and Kerhonkson Otto Clippers going against Wiltwyck Motors.

The usual tripleheader is carded at the Y gym on Tuesday night. The Wiltwyck-Kerhonkson should be one of the better early season skirmishes. Both teams have played great ball and tonight's test is considered the toughest for the Clippers in this round.

Wiltwyck's gave Sickler's a big scare last week before losing by only four points. Five of the Clipper players stand better than six feet and they are always a constant scoring threat.

The week's schedule:
Monday, Dec. 22
Auditorium
7:15—Sickler's Delivery vs. Miron Lumber.
8:30—Kerhonkson Clippers vs. Wiltwyck Motors.

Tuesday, Dec. 23
Y.M.C.A. Gym
7 p. m.—Sickler's vs. Potter.

Brothers.—8 p. m.—Otto Clippers vs. Miron Lumber.
9 p. m.—Gov. Clinton Hotel vs. Skyline.

Bagatelles

Perhaps the outstanding sports development of the past week was the thorough manner in which Ray Nadel's Wiltwyck Motor kuglers loused up the maiden showing of their new solid maroon bowling shirts . . . with yellow lettering. . . As often happens, the Wiltwycks who have been setting a hot pace in the Major League were sartorially resplendent but mechanically embarrassed when Town Cafe, an obscure squad, upended them in three straight games. . . The social elevation Mr. Nadel was certain his trundlers would gain via the new solid Maroon shirts (with yellow lettering) had to be sacrificed to the more sordid realities of the won and lost column . . . where they still pay off. . . Ray is a rather devoted sponsor and spends many a Thursday night in the bleachers watching the Major League "experts," particularly his own squad, stage endless exhibitions of questionable technical worthiness. . . The man's endurance apparently is amazing. . . We were happy to note that a "pressing engagement" forced Nadel's early exodus from the Centrals last week when he breezed in to learn that neither the Wiltwycks nor the new shirts were doing so well. . . What made the sad experience all the more painful was that Town Cafe was doing the surgery. . . The Cafemans with no permanent aspirations are a potentially explosive, but actually impotent band of kuglers who delight in scurrying for the nearest bistro after the laborious two hour tepin struggles on Thursday. . . That was . . . until they saw red, or was it maroon?

Flash:

Via American Bowling Congress headquarters: There have been requests from Kingston to "check" alleys 7 and 8 for "grooves" this season. . . The Ulsters aren't doing so well, it seems.

Flotsam and Jetsam:

Picking an All-DUSO football squad for 1947 is a nightmare. . . The league had several good guards and tackles and it comes under the heading of pure speculation to single out one kid over another. . . But the president of the DUSO Sports-writer Association wants those 11 names. . . Wonder how many points K.I.E.s. could roll up on a hot night against an average area opponent. If Coach Kias closed the gates of mercy! . . . A solid Christmas Night attendance would make the Kingston Legionnaires feel much happier about their basketball future. . . Nice to see Eddie Schupp, the youthful City League "old timer" blasting the maples at a brisk pace. . . Maybe bowlers need long vacations in between matches. . . Look at what happened to Tony La Rocca. . . 278 and 665 after a several weeks' detachment from the maples.

Of Men and Mice:

Don't overlook old St. Johnson when tabbing the all time masters of batting in the big show. . . Venerable St. batted an impressive 123 in 19 years. . . 87 hits in 709 official trips to the plate. . . He made only five extra base blows—four doubles and a triple. . . Only home run in a 25-year career came in 1928 with Rock Island of the Mississippi Valley League in 1928. . . 1947 Historic Track Review just off the press and tub thumper "Bo" Gill can bow once from the waist for a nice job. . . Manager first baseman, Al Gardella, darling of the Kingston bletcher gods, has signed his 1948 contract with the Peekskill Highlanders. . . Irv Jaffe, ex-Olympic skating champion is the skating director at Grosinger's Country Club. . . The American Bowling Congress will consider an amendment at its next convention to legalize use of pins weighing less than 3 pounds, the current minimum weight. . . Bowlers don't know it, but they've been shooting at some of those "ketchup bottles" for several years.

A Reliable Guessing Contest:

"Red" Patterson, the Yankee public relations man, brushed off a Frankie Frisch odds at the K.A.A. meeting and it's worth repeating. . . Onkel Frank and Umpire George Magerkurth, who never invite each other to afternoon teas, were having a particularly rugged day in Pittsburgh. . . Near the end of the game they engaged in a heated verbal exchange and Magerkurth thought he heard Frisch call him a . . . Wheeling around in furious rage, Magerkurth at Frisch, did I hear you call me a . . . "Why ask me," Frisch retorted, "you've been guessing all day, you might as well guess that one, too!"

Suspects Captured After Robbing Club

Proprietor, 2 Bartenders Held at Gunpoint, $355 Stolen

New York, Dec. 22 (AP)—After watching the floor show with 100 other patrons, three men held up the proprietor and two bartenders and stole $355 from a cash register at Phil's "111 Club" on East 28th street near Fourth avenue early today.

Two rookie policemen in a patrol car captured three suspects after a chase of several blocks, during which the policemen fired at the fleeing men. Police said $144 of the loot was recovered when the fugitives were cornered in a loft building.

The men had been pointed out to the policemen by Philip Buzzeo, proprietor of the night club, at 2:30 a. m. A girl checkroom attendant who had been called to the telephone, saw the holdup in progress and asked the person with whom she was talking to call police.

The prisoners were charged with assault, robbery and violation of the Sullivan anti-weapons law.

They were booked as Edward Dougherty, 25, of 175-14 138th street, Springfield, Queens; Nick Marsden, 27, of 518 East Second street, and Frank Albergo, 28, of 110 Eighth avenue, both of Manhattan.

Prison Officers Open Drive for Pay Boosts

Albany, N. Y., Dec. 22 (AP)—The prison officers conference of New York has launched a campaign for a 25 per cent increase in salaries of the state's prison safety force. Executives drew up a legislative program Saturday also calling for: Extension of the 40-hour week with overtime provisions to all prison force officers in county and city correctional institutions, (state guards now have this benefit).

A 25-year service retirement option for officers of all ranks under civil service. The conference claims 2,000 state, 400 county and 800 New York city prison officers.

A resolution urged members to take cognizance of what were termed "undesirable trends in certain motion pictures and radio crime story programs" that depict prison officers as "brutish, unintelligent and dishonest," while tending "to glorify the criminals in prison."

Thomas McMahon of Middletown was elected president. Other officers: Frank Walpole, Napanoch, first vice president; James Quinn, Auburn, second vice president; Ross Van Dooser, Buffalo, third vice president; Miss Veronica McMahon, St. Alban's, financial secretary.

Food, Purchasing Habits Survey Here

Two nutritionists from the State Health Department, Miss Dorothy Groner and Miss Daphne Reynolds, have been conducting a survey of the food purchasing habits of several families in Ulster county. This study is part of the state-wide effort of the Food Commission to determine the present diet of New Yorkers in order to plan a sound nutrition program for the future.

Many groups are cooperating with the Food Commission in this study which was planned by the Harvard School of Public Health. Nurses, lay groups and voluntary health agencies are all working with the Department of Health so that coverage of the whole state will be insured. The plan is to study families as well as selected groups such as industrial workers, growing boys and girls and pregnant women. All of these reports will be compiled and significant findings will be released at a later date.

Ten families in Ulster county accepted visits from Miss Groner and Miss Reynolds in their day-to-day record of foods purchased and helped in making their trip to this county successful.

Jersey Ironworkers Are Scheduled to Strike

Newark, N. J., Dec. 22 (AP)—A.F.L. Ironworkers in six northern New Jersey counties were scheduled to go on strike today for a $3-an-hour wage scale.

The scheduled strike would tie up heavy construction work in Essex, Union, Middlesex, Sussex, Warren and Bergen counties. Union officials said the ironworkers, members of the A.F.L. North Jersey District Council, seek a 50-cent-an-hour wage increase to the $3 level.

The strike was voted 946 to 43 by the ironworkers Saturday ending a four-day truce after Tuesday's expiration of their contract with the New Jersey Contractors Association.

James M. Lowe, A.F.L. Council president, said picket lines will be set up around construction projects where contractors bring in non-union workers, but he promised there would be no interference with any building trades unions on jobs.

The contractors' offer of a 25-cent-an-hour increase was rejected by the ironworkers. The contractors' joint committee, which issued a statement after the strike vote was announced, said they felt their offer of the 25-cent-an-hour increase "is fair and in the best interests of the building industry in North Jersey."

Carbon Is Removed

Firemen removed burning carbon from a chimney in the dwelling at 11 Stanley street owned by Frank Smith and occupied by James Emmick Saturday, after a fire broke out at 3:10 o'clock. Deputy Fire Chief George Matthews reported. The fire department was summoned by a telephone alarm.

Dewey Requested To Consider State Fuel Coordinator

Albany, N. Y., Dec. 22 (AP)—Governor Dewey, who has indicated concern over the developing fuel oil shortage, is one of 28 governors asked by the chairman of a Senate subcommittee to consider appointing state emergency fuel coordinators.

Dewey's office said last night the governor had not received the request, announced in Washington.

Public Works Superintendent Charles H. Sells has served in that capacity for other emergencies.

Informed capitol sources said Saturday Dewey was "gravely concerned" at the outlook. They anticipated an appeal for voluntary reduction in consumption. Senator Tobey (R-N.H.) aimed to the governors from Washington copies of a report from an oil industry committee he appointed to recommend a voluntary plan for easing the shortage. Tobey, head of an interstate and commerce subcommittee on coal and oil shortage, called attention specifically to the recommendation for a coordinator. The coordinators would handle problems of distribution.

Dewey was represented as believing a cut in home temperatures from the lower 70s to 68 degrees would help offset the shortage, estimated at 15 per cent.

He discussed the problem in New York city Friday with 20 representatives of producers who supply the state with 95 per cent of its fuel oil. Further conferences are in prospect.

Dewey's administration attributed the scarcity to transportation difficulties and increased consumption resulting from opening of new oil-heated dwelling units. Officials say 100,000 such units have been opened in the last year.

Excelsior Hose Meeting

An adjourned meeting of Excelsior Hose Company will be held at the engine house this evening at 8 o'clock. All members are asked to attend. Preparations will be discussed for the annual dinner. Also the two turkeys to be given away to members of the company will take place at 9 o'clock.

Carbon Causes Fire

Firemen were called Sunday at 2:47 p. m. to the home of Daniel Dougherty, 8 Chapel street, where carbon had ignited in the vent pipe of a space oil heater on the second floor. Deputy Fire Chief George Matthews reported. No damage was caused, he said.

American Plane Beats Sound in California Flights

Magazine Gives Statement About Which Army Is Silent; Cites Pilots

Washington, Dec. 22 (AP) — An American plane is reported to have flown faster than sound.

The magazine Aviation Week says in its issue dated today that the Bell XS-1, an experimental rocket craft, has pierced the so-called Sonic Barrier on several occasions during the past month at Muroc Air Base, Calif.

Marvin Miles, aviation writer for the Los Angeles Times, also wrote today that he had "learned from reliable sources" that the long-sought speed had been attained.

Col. S. A. Gilkie, commandant of the Muroc Base, neither confirmed nor denied the reports.

Secretary of Defense Forrestal has issued an order forbidding official disclosure of progress in high speed flight.

The speed of sound generally is stated at 760 miles an hour. This is based on a temperature of 59 degrees Fahrenheit at sea level.

It varies up to 100 miles an hour in either direction as the temperature rises or falls.

The magazine said the first faster than sound flight was made by Capt. Charles Yeager and has been duplicated several times by

Yeager and test pilots Howard

Lilly and Herbert Hoover of the National Association of aeronautics,

the government's top research agency.

Robert H. Wood, editor of Aviation Week, said he had withheld publication of the story for several weeks at the request of Air Force officials. He told a reporter

the understanding was that the Air Force also would withhold publication.

Wood said he decided to release

the story after learning the Air Force was preparing a news release on the XS-1's record. An Air Force spokesman said no such release is in preparation.

The Bell XS-1 is powered by four rockets. It is launched from the belly of a four-engine B-29 bomber.

When the XS-1 was first announced, the Air Force said it was expected eventually to reach a speed of 1,700 miles an hour.

Oregon lawmaker added in a statement:

"Strangely enough, this development might be the solution of the now almost forgotten mystery of the flying saucers."

He said the Russians are reported to have a rocket of amazing speed, and "almost limitless range" propelled by a series of explosions occurring several seconds apart.

Ellsworth suggested that American scientists might have been working on some similar device, but he held it more likely that any discs actually seen had

There were similar reports at

Scientists Spurn Military Research; Security Is Item

Aversion to Development of Death Weapons Is Not Primary Factor

Washington, Dec. 22 (AP)—Government officials said today there is a critical scarcity of scientists in certain branches of military research. But they discounted statements that an aversion to working on death-dealing weapons is the primary cause.

Economic factors and a scholar's desire for complete freedom of study—rather than philosophies—keeps many of them away from government work, officials of the military and the Atomic Energy Commission told a reporter.

The latest of a series of statements came recently from Dr. Theodor Rosebury, Columbia University professor, who said "many American scientists are refusing to work on military developments."

Atomic Commission and military officials said they believe these are the governing factors in the unwillingness of some scientists to work on government projects:

1. Lack of security. Unlike employment in the laboratory of a university or a large industrial concern, employment on a military research project may be of uncertain tenure.
2. Unsatisfactory living conditions for the scientists and their families at some of the more isolated projects, such as those in southwestern United States desert country or remote towns in newly developed sections.
3. Inability of the government to match pay offered by private research institutions.
4. Refusal of scientists, particularly those interested in pure research, to be placed under the comparatively narrow confines of a project directed at obtaining a particular military development.
5. Aversion to helping produce machines for killing. A very minor percentage of scientists have given this as their reason for declining to work on government projects.

Key Personnel Needed

The greatest shortage in scientific manpower, and one definitely retarding research in some fields, is in certain key personnel, officials said. They mentioned in particular the need for scientist-administrators who thoroughly schooled in science at one time are capable of organizing and directing a large research project.

The lack of more average research workers and technicians is less acute but still an important factor in operation of the nation's military development program, it was explained.

Despite the general shortage of scientists, however, there are indications that in certain highly critical fields of military research the government is managing to make out.

Plans are under way to begin experiments with atomic weapons and in other atomic research at Eniwetok atoll in the Pacific—despite the assertion by some military leaders a year ago that the loss of civilian and military technicians would make it impossible to conduct further atomic bomb tests like those at Bikini Atoll.

Smoke Causes Alarm

Smoke in a garage caused a telephone alarm to be sent to the fire department Saturday at 11:56 a. m. The smoke was the result of a wick out of adjustment on a kerosene oil stove in the basement of the garage at 169 North Manor avenue owned by Harry Reppert, Fire Chief Joseph L. Murphy reported. The garage is a two story and basement frame building, with apartments on the second floor occupied by Arthur Mulligan, the chief said.

Probe Will Be Made

Washington, Dec. 22 (AP)—Veterans of the F.B.I. and the Secret Service have been called in by the Air Force to help ferret out any wrongdoing. The reorganization of the Air Force's inspection service follows the indictment here of Maj. Gen. Bennett E. Meyers, wartime procurement officer, on charges of perjury and persuading another to lie before the Senate War Investigating Committee. The new setup is headed by an office of inspector general, which replaces that of the former air inspector.

"The Air Force has a duty of public trust and that has been a long-felt need for establishing a better means of safeguarding that trust," commented Maj. Gen. Hugh J. Kneer, who was named to the new post by Secretary of Air W. Stuart Symington over the week-end. Frank J. Wilson, retired head of the Secret Service, will serve as a consultant to Kneer.
